

Second Annual WSRC New Scholars Symposium
Women Narrate: Memory, Migration and Desire

Presenting the work of new 2017/2018 WSRC Scholars

Eva-Sabine Zehelein, Professor (10:00)

(Re)writing Parenthood Against Systemic Disparagement and for Reproductive Justice

Sarah Swartz, Writer, Editor, Translator (10:45)

A Question of Belonging: In Search of My Parents' Memories

Emily Fox-Kales, Psychologist, Lecturer (11:30)

Guilty Pleasures: Unruly Bodies, Appetites, and Desire

Lisa Krissoff Boehm, Novelist, Dean, Professor (12:15)

Waiting 4,000 Years for Crisco: Short Selection from a Novel

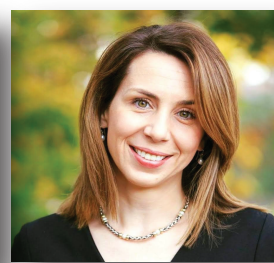

Lunch Break: Please bring your own brown bag lunch. (1:00-1:30)

Heather Treseler, Poet, Essayist, Professor (1:30)

Elizabeth Bishop and the Scene of Reading

Patricia Sheppard, Poet, former Judge (2:15)

A Reading of Poems from If You Would Love Me (June 2018) and Other New Work

Liberman-Miller Lecture Hall, Epstein, WSRC, Brandeis University
Thursday, March 29th, 2018, 9:30-3:00pm

Brandeis Women's Studies Research Center (WSRC)
515 South Street, Waltham MA 02453
Visit WSRC online
<https://www.brandeis.edu/wsrc/>
Email: wsrc@brandeis.edu

