MISSION STATEMENT

BGSP's highly engaged community is deeply committed to furthering humanity's understanding of the unconscious forces that drive us, helping individuals lead more fulfilling lives, and addressing the societal and cultural challenges we continue to face.

The School's individualized approach to learning helps students uniquely shape their professional lives, producing clinical mental health counselors, scholars, and psychoanalysts who are able and confident in their abilities to remove impediments to the lasting growth of which virtually all people are capable.

INTRODUCTION

The Boston Graduate School of Psychoanalysis was founded in 1973 as the Boston Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies by a group of psychoanalysts who introduced modern psychoanalytic training to New England. The school became degree granting in 1994, awarding the M.A. in Psychoanalysis, and was renamed the Boston Graduate School of Psychoanalysis. BGSP has grown and now offers a broad foundation in psychoanalytic theory, research and practice through its Master of Arts in Psychoanalysis, Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling and the Doctor of Psychoanalysis (Psy.D.) programs and in-depth training in modern psychoanalytic theory and practice through its Certificate in Psychoanalysis program. In addition, through its interdisciplinary programs in psychoanalysis, society, and culture, BGSP offers the Master of Arts and the Doctor of Psychoanalysis (Psy.D.) in Psychoanalysis, Society, and Culture.

BGSP also offers the Master of Arts in Psychoanalytic Studies program at the NYGSP campus in New York City, as well as the Master of Arts in Psychoanalysis and Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling programs at the ICPS campus located in Livingston, NJ.

The Institute of Counseling and Psychoanalytic Studies (ICPS) was established in January 2015 through a partnership between BGSP and the Academy of Clinical and Applied Psychoanalysis (ACAP) to offer two graduate degrees in psychoanalysis in Livingston, New Jersey. ICPS offers the Master of Arts degree in Psychoanalysis (MAP) and the Master of Arts degree in Clinical Mental Health Counseling (MACMHC), as well as the post-master's Certificate in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. ICPS and ACAP, both having a long history of practice and instruction in modern psychoanalytic theory and technique, share a tradition of offering modern psychoanalytic training to communities, agencies, groups, families, and individuals.

The Boston Graduate School of Psychoanalysis also sponsors community and continuing education events including conferences, seminar series, workshops, and elective courses including the One Year Program, an organized two semester program introducing participants from a variety of backgrounds to modern psychoanalytic theory and technique. Low-cost psychoanalysis and psychoanalytically oriented therapy are available to the community at the School's Therapy Center in Brookline, Massachusetts.

The Boston Graduate School of Psychoanalysis takes the position that the field of psychoanalysis is a self-contained body of knowledge and method of inquiry as well as a clinical method of treatment. The theories, techniques, research tools, and extensive literature established in the field have had an incalculable influence on every aspect of twenty-first century thought. The opportunity to study psychoanalysis in depth can enrich professionals personally and clinically and can augment their work in disciplines such as mental health, literature, medicine, education, social work, anthropology, and sociology, to name but a few.

The founders of BGSP chose to follow Freud's philosophy that people from a variety of academic and professional backgrounds who demonstrate talent, motivation, and the ability to use themselves as therapeutic personalities should be eligible for education as psychoanalysts.

Academically qualified applicants who show the capacity and desire to be trained are welcomed from all disciplines.

The School's innovative approach to education is based on the proposition that the resolution of resistance, a basic principle of psychoanalytic treatment, may be applied to the teaching and learning of psychoanalytic concepts. Resistance to emotional learning is the greatest handicap to understanding psychodynamics and to becoming an effective psychoanalyst. The dynamics of the classroom are used to illuminate concepts being taught and to involve students in emotional learning. Emotional learning fosters self-understanding and tolerance for feelings induced by others. In working with case material, the focus is on undoing the blocks to experiencing emotional states induced by patients, and distinguishing them from emotions originating in the personalities of presenters and listeners. Recognition of these induced states leads to the design of appropriate interventions.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Academic requirements for each program are described in that program's catalog available on the school's website. General information, policies and procedures are described in the General Bulletin available on the website.

Program requirements are subject to change. Students generally have the option to follow the program requirements which were in place at the time of their admission. However, from time to time, students may be required to adhere to changes in program requirements when not doing so would impact the integrity of the student's degree, for example, in order to meet licensing requirements in license-eligible degree programs. In such cases, the school attempts to institute program changes with a minimum of disruption to enrolled students.

This handbook outlines policies applicable to students at the Boston campus and in all programs of the Boston Graduate School of Psychoanalysis. Separate Student Handbooks are available for NYGSP and ICPS students.

STUDENT ADVISEMENT

Student advisement is one of the most important co-curricular services offered by the Graduate School. Advisement is directed by the Assistant Dean and Director of Advisement, Dr. Leslie Barnard. Each student is assigned an educational advisor upon beginning study at the school and meets with the advisor at least once per semester. Advisors are responsible for both the academic and personal aspects of the student's experience at BGSP. The advisor helps the student choose an appropriate course of study each semester and reviews the student's evaluations. All course elections are reviewed and approved by the advisor. The advisor follows the student's progress through the program, assessing his/her readiness to advance. Once the student enters the Therapy Center, a clinical Fellow becomes the student's advisor.

Issues affecting student progress, identified by the student or the advisor, are discussed between them and may be brought to the attention of the Advisement Committee.

Recommendations are developed for addressing any difficulties. These recommendations are reviewed by the Dean and communicated to the student by the advisor. Cases of significant academic difficulty may be taken to the Faculty Council for further consideration. (Please see the discussion of academic standing below.)

Although the Graduate School has no formal learning assistance program, peer tutoring can be arranged through the advisor or the Fellows.

All students are required to be in a personal analysis. However, any student who feels they need an assessment for mental health services, or for whom an assessment is recommended by an advisor, may contact the Dean of Graduate Studies or President for such an evaluation.

TRAINING ANALYSIS

To receive credit for courses, students have to be in an approved training analysis. Approved training analysts are certified analysts from accredited psychoanalytic training institutes who are recognized training analysts at their own institutes. The analysis continues during the entire period of training. A total of 70 hours of training analysis is required for graduation from the clinical master's programs. A total of at least 450 sessions is required for graduation from the certificate and clinical doctoral program. Of the total, 150 sessions may be in group. Students in the Psychoanalysis, Society, and Culture program are required to have completed 50 hours of training analysis for the M.A. degree and 120 hours for the Psya.D.

To begin Fieldwork a minimum of 12 hours of training analysis is required. To see patients at the Therapy Center, a minimum of 70 hours is required.

Questions regarding approved training analysts may be addressed to the Registrar and/or the Dean of Graduate Studies. Credit for psychoanalysis undertaken prior to enrolling in the training program is discussed at the Admissions interviews and determined by the Dean of Graduate Studies.

The name of the student's training analyst, frequency of sessions and number of sessions is included in the student's academic record. The content of the training analysis is confidential. It is expected that all students engage in analysis at a minimum frequency of once a week in person. Students interning in the Therapy Center are required to be in a minimally weekly analysis throughout the duration of their program.

Information pertaining to analytic requirements for different programs and for graduation is available in the program catalog.

ANALYTIC STATEMENTS

Statements of Individual and Group Analysis are used to document the student's fulfillment of the training analysis requirement in all degree and certificate programs. New students submit an Approval of Training Analyst form to the Dean of Graduate Studies shortly after enrollment.

Once the analyst is approved, new students submit a Statement of Analytic hours through Empower within one month of starting analysis. All students submit Statements of Analytic Hours with registration at the beginning of each semester through Empower, our student information system. Instructions for entering analytic hours in Empower are sent to students from the registrar's office at the start of the registration period. The online form is filled out by the student and submitted to the student's analyst for approval. Once approved by the analyst, the student's advisor reviews the form online and approves those hours.

At ICPS, analytic statements are submitted upon initial enrollment and subsequently at the beginning of each semester as part of the registration process. The form is filled out by the student and signed by the student's analyst.

OVERVIEW OF ACADEMIC POLICIES

Provisional Acceptance

Students are occasionally admitted to one of the academic programs with a provisional acceptance. This may occur if the admissions file is incomplete (e.g., missing an official transcript), or if the student's prior record indicates a trial semester would help to determine if the student is ready to undertake the program of study. Students admitted provisionally work closely with an advisor, engage in training analysis, and evaluate their performance and readiness to continue at the end of the semester.

Full and Part-time Status

A full-time course load is defined as a minimum of three courses. A part-time course load is defined as 2 courses or fewer, plus appropriate supervision and field experience. International students should contact the Financial Aid Officer for information about what constitutes a full-time course load for visas purposes. Students pursue their studies at a pace agreeable to them and their advisors. Many students find it beneficial to study part-time in order to pursue outside employment or family life, or, equally important, to moderate the pace at which they absorb the very stimulating psychoanalytic material. Students should discuss with their advisor what the most appropriate balance of coursework, clinical experience, and research is for them. (Part-time students need to be aware that not all courses are offered every semester, and part-time study will clearly extend the length of time required to graduate as well as the overall cost of attendance.)

Non-matriculated students are eligible to register for Extension Division courses, the One Year program, or with the approval of the Dean of Graduate Studies, a course in the Maturation sequence.

Transfer Credit

Transfer credit is granted for equivalent graduate level course work at recognized academic institutions.

Applicants who have completed graduate work in psychoanalysis, counseling, or research may request equivalency at the admission interviews. When the student completes the admissions process, the assigned advisor will be made aware that the student is requesting transfer credit so he or she can guide the student in the process. The student will submit documentation including syllabi of courses to be evaluated to the Dean of Graduate Studies at BGSP, or to the Admissions Committee at ICPS, who will determine equivalency credit. Up to 12 credits may be transferred from other programs. The school maintains an Articulation Agreement for the transfer of credit from the Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies. Students seeking credit for hours with analysts who are members of the Society of Modern Psychoanalysts or members of comparable psychoanalytic accrediting bodies may submit their analysts' credentials to the Dean of Graduate Studies for review. Prior and current hours with qualified training analysts may be counted toward the graduation requirement.

For students entering the Psya.D. program in the accelerated track for certified analysts, the Program Director evaluates the applicant's psychoanalytic training in order to ensure comparable academic course coverage and establishes credit hour equivalencies using the federal definition of credit hour. The registrar's office then transfers in the work already completed in the analytic training program. The School has an articulation agreement with the Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies that outlines the criteria for transfer of credit from that institution. For graduates of other institutions, the Admissions Committee faculty evaluates the applicants' prior syllabi and course papers for course content, scholarship, and seat time.

Students completing the One Year Program who wish to enroll in one of the academic programs may request equivalency credit for one course in the psychoanalytic curriculum. Students intending to request equivalency credit consult with the Dean of Graduate Studies, at the beginning of the Program, for information about additional work that would need to be submitted.

Attendance

Students are expected to attend all classes. Excuses for absences are not automatic. A student may request an excused absence by permission of the instructor. No more than two excused absences are permitted. Unexcused absences or more than two excused absences generally result in a grade of no credit for the course.

Absence request forms are available with other student forms near the student mailboxes or online on the BGSP website, from the Library & Administrative Materials tab. When feasible, notification of an intended absence is expected prior to the class that will be missed.

Religious Observance

An effort is made to avoid scheduling classes on religious holidays; however, this is sometimes unavoidable. Students may take their excused absences for religious observances.

Disability Accommodation

BGSP is committed to providing equal access to otherwise qualified students with disabilities who are able to effectively function in a rigorous graduate program.

BGSP will offer legally mandated accommodations to students with documented disabilities to give them access to full participation in equal educational opportunities. Eligibility for these services is based on documented need and is determined on a case by case basis. The purpose of accommodations is to reduce or eliminate any disadvantages that may exist because of an individual's disability. The law does not require institutions to waive specific courses or academic requirements considered essential to a particular program or degree. Instead, they are mandated to modify existing requirements to ensure that individuals are not discriminated against on the basis of their disability.

Reasonable accommodations are not intended to eliminate a student's disability, but to support the student's own efforts to circumvent obstacles to learning. Students are expected to meet the essential course and degree requirements. When necessary, faculty will be consulted regarding essential standards in order to determine reasonable accommodations.

Accommodations are not substitutions for faculty academic decisions such as course content, grading, or syllabus requirements.

Disclosure of a disability is voluntary; however, it is important to note that BGSP is not responsible for providing accommodations to a student who has not provided appropriate documentation of a disability and requested a reasonable accommodation.

To request a reasonable accommodation, a student informs the admissions staff and the Dean of Graduate Studies of the disability and the accommodation requested. The Dean consults with students and faculty, considers all alternatives, and reaches a decision on the accommodation.

Completion of Work

All coursework in a given semester is expected to be submitted by the course deadline.

Extensions beyond this time will only be given at the discretion of the instructor. The general policy followed by psychoanalytic and counseling program instructors is that all extension work must be completed within thirty days of the end of the semester. Work not submitted by the date indicated in the extension will not be accepted for credit. Students enrolled in the Psychoanalysis, Society and Culture program are expected to consult with their instructors about outstanding work and have up to one year to complete the work with permission of the instructor. Permission of the instructor needs to be obtained within a month of the course end.

Students who complete work late are responsible for obtaining a change of grade form, completing and having it signed by the instructor and submitting it to the Registrar. Incompletes still on the record automatically turn to No Credit 30 days after the semester end date.

In order to progress from year to year in any given program, the student must successfully complete the previous year's work.

Grades

Students may receive a High Pass (HP), Pass (P), Low Pass (LP), Incomplete (I), Continuing (C), No Credit (NC) or Withdrawal (W). Students are generally evaluated on the basis of attendance, class participation and the ability to understand, integrate and communicate material from the readings and class discussions. This is demonstrated both in classroom discussion and written work. Specific requirements of a particular course are conveyed by the individual instructor and are stated on the syllabus.

Grades are accompanied by comments. Instructors may take this opportunity to describe a student's strengths and weaknesses, observed resistances to learning which might interfere with the student's work and progress in the classroom or in a clinical setting as well as recommendations for future work and study. These reports are reviewed by the advisor at the end of each semester in order to address issues as they arise, and results are communicated to the student by the advisor. Students may feel free to communicate concerns about their performance with their advisor, other members of the faculty, or the Deans or Program Director. Please see the section on Advisement.

Academic Standing

Students may remain in good standing, receive a warning, be placed on probation, or be asked to take a leave of absence until they can demonstrate readiness to return to the program.

Generally, students receive a warning if their course work in one semester has two or more Low Pass, Incomplete, or No Credit grades, depending on the total number of courses taken. For a course load of one or two courses, one or more Low Pass, Incomplete, or No Credit grades will generate a warning. For a course load of three or more courses, two or more Low Pass, Incomplete, or No Credit grades will generate a warning. Students who are unable to complete and pass courses over two semesters may be placed on probation. The advisor and instructors work with a student to resolve academic problems. Students are asked to take an academic leave of absence if it is felt that the remediation efforts of the School are not sufficient and that the student needs either additional analysis or life experience before being ready to study at this level. This decision may be made to address a student's academic difficulties or emotional difficulties interfering with academic progress or constructive engagement in the school community (e.g., engaging in destructive behavior). A student whose emotional difficulties make it inadvisable to work with patients, or for whom further training may pose a risk to his or her own emotional stability, may also be asked to take a leave of absence. All the decisions above are made on an individual basis.

Leave of Absence

A student in good standing may request a leave of absence by meeting with the Dean of Graduate Studies (and Program Director in the Psychoanalysis, Society, and Culture Program) and explaining the reason for the leave. Students on leave are not permitted to see patients at the Therapy Center. Current patients of students on leave are re-assigned.

Students on leave may maintain their matriculation for two years by meeting with the Dean of Graduate Studies at BGSP, or with the Program Director at ICPS, submitting the requisite registration form and the maintenance of matriculation fee. A leave of absence is given on a semester basis and is requested anew each semester. After two years, a student on leave must reapply to the program. Certificate and psychoanalytic doctoral students are expected to continue the training analysis while on leave.

For each semester of the Leave of Absence, the student pays the Registration Fee to maintain matriculation. Additionally, a student wishing to continue to access the Library database pays the Curriculum Support Fee. A student wishing to maintain their BGSP student email pays the $100 Technology Fee each semester.

Adding or Dropping a Course

Students may add or drop a course at any time during the add/drop period, which extends through the second class session. In order to add/drop, the student fills out the Add/Drop Form. The student obtains the advisor's signature and submits the form to the Registrar. The form can be found across from the student mailboxes in the reception area or online on the BGSP website, from the Library & Administrative Materials tab

Students should remember that no more than two excused absences are permitted, so adding a class after the second class meeting does not allow for the possibility of additional absences. When dropping courses, please refer to the refund policy in the registration packet. If a class is dropped after the 2nd class meeting, the instructor's signature is required and a withdraw (W) is listed on the transcript. Absence from class does not constitute a drop.

Students on Financial Aid contact the Director of Financial Aid to determine whether adding or dropping a course will affect eligibility for federal student loans.

International students contact the International Students Coordinator to determine whether dropping a course will affect your status as an International Student.

BGSP's failure to enforce a policy does not constitute a waiver of that policy.*

guarantee that individuals with a disability have equal access and opportunity in educational institutions. Physically challenged individuals are accommodated by ramp access to the lower floors and administrative offices and by chair elevator to the upper level classrooms and the Library. At NYGSP, the building is serviced by an elevator. At ICPS, physically challenged individuals are accommodated by ramp access from the parking lot to the lower floors and the building is serviced by an elevator.

Smoking Policy

There is no smoking in the Graduate School buildings at BGSP or ICPS NJ/ACAP. Brookline has an anti-smoking ordinance prohibiting smoking in public places. Smoking is prohibited at the outside entryway to the building as well as inside the building. Please refer to the Alcohol & Substance Abuse Policy in the Annual Security Report.

Alcohol and Substance Abuse Policy

The Graduate School's policies on drugs and alcohol are located in the Annual Security Report, found here. Please refer to the Annual Security Report for full details.

It is the policy of the Boston Graduate School of Psychoanalysis that its classes and workplace be free of illicit drugs and alcoholic beverages, and free of their use. The Graduate School's drug and alcohol policy is in place to provide a safe, productive, and healthy classroom and workplace for all students, faculty, and staff, to comply with federal and state health and safety laws, and to prevent classroom and workplace accidents. The violation of state and/or federal laws for the illegal possession, sale, manufacture, or distribution of any controlled substance is a violation of the Graduate School's alcohol and substance abuse policy and can end in suspension, expulsion, or employment termination. Except as defined below, it is a violation for any member of the campus community, student, or employee to consume or possess alcohol in any public or private area of campus. Although Massachusetts law now permits adults aged 21 or older to possess and consume marijuana under certain circumstances, BGSP policy prohibits the possession, use, or distribution of marijuana, including for medical purposes, on BGSP property or as part of a BGSP activity. Thus, even if possession or use of marijuana would be permitted under Massachusetts law, it remains prohibited on campus. Consumption or possession described in this paragraph can end in suspension, expulsion, or employment termination. The Graduate School is obligated to inform the United States Department of Education when aware of any employee's conviction under a criminal drug statute and to take appropriate action.

Regulations Regarding the Sale and Distribution of Alcoholic Beverages

Under Massachusetts law, a person must be at least 21 years of age to legally purchase and drink alcoholic beverages in Massachusetts. Misrepresenting one's age, serving drinks or purchasing for someone underage is a crime and results in fines or arrest. It is against the law to serve an alcoholic beverage to an individual who is obviously inebriated. Any person who violates the law is liable for his or her own actions and may be subject to civil or criminal complaints.

Drinking and Driving

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has set the legal limit for alcohol concentration in the blood at below .02 for anyone under the age of 21 and .08 for anyone over 21. For many people under 160 lbs., one drink will result in a blood alcohol content of over .02.

Legal Sanctions for Drug Offenses

Federal, state and local sanctions for unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs range from probation and forfeiture of property to fines and imprisonment. For example, the sanctions against an individual for distribution of, or possession with intent to distribute, controlled substances can be from a minimum of 10 years imprisonment to a maximum of life imprisonment, with fines up to $4 million. Sanctions can increase for repeat offenders or for offenses resulting in death or serious bodily harm and can be doubled for each of the following occurrences: distribution to persons under 21 years of age, distribution within 1000 feet of a college or university, or employing someone under 18 in the distribution. Attempt or conspiracy to commit a crime can be treated as severely as the intended offense. Effective September 1, 1989, conviction for any violation of any state or federal drug law can lead to ineligibility for any federal benefit (including grants and loans).

Those concerned about their own substance use or worried about a friend can seek assistance with complete confidentiality. Students should consult with their training analyst but may also contact the Dean of Graduate Studies or another administrator if they would like further assistance.

The Graduate School's Position

While the Graduate School need not act as an agent for the civil authorities, it will regard any member of the School community under the influence of intoxicants or drugs as fully responsible for his or her acts. All provisions of the Code of Conduct, including the full range of possible penalties, will be applicable in these cases. A plea of mitigating circumstances due to the consumption of alcohol, intoxicants, or drugs will not be accepted in disciplinary hearings.

Consumption of alcohol on the premises is permitted at events sanctioned by the Graduate School with the approval of the President. All members of the school community are expected to monitor their own consumption and behave responsibly.

The School will impose the full range of disciplinary sanctions on any member of the School community who violates the standards of conduct associated with the unlawful possession, use or distribution of drugs and alcohol.

Alcohol is occasionally served at school functions. All members of the school community are expected to monitor their own consumption and behave responsibly.

Sexual Misconduct Prevention Program and Policy

The Boston Graduate School of Psychoanalysis sexual misconduct policy addresses the institution's campus sexual assault programs to prevent sexual violence and procedures to follow when a sex offense occurs. This policy applies to all campus locations in Brookline, MA, New York, NY, and Livingston, NJ. The Graduate School is committed to providing campus communities free of sexual misconduct; and prohibits sexual discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking.

The Graduate School's policy on sexual harassment is directed toward behavior and does not purport to regulate beliefs, attitudes or feelings. It is based on federal and state law in accordance with Title IX regulations. Because it is possible for one person to unintentionally engage in the sexual harassment of another, a general description of sexual harassment is provided. Sexual harassment can include a wide range of behavior, from the actual coercing of sexual relations to the forcing of sexual attentions, verbal or physical, on a non-consenting individual.

Additionally, sexual contact with patients or students is antithetical and destructive to the treatment and educational process. Faculty, therefore, avoid all sexual contact of an overt or covert nature with their students, patients or former patients, even if such contact is invited and/or consensual. Students, in the same way, avoid all sexual contact with patients.

Please consult the Annual Security Report for complete guidance on the Sexual Misconduct Prevention Program and Policy, including contact information for the Campus Security Authorities and the Title IX Coordinators at each campus. The Annual Security Report outlines the definitions of sexual harassment and violence by local jurisdiction, sex offender registry information, primary prevention and awareness education, what to do if you are a victim of a sex offense at BGSP/NYGSP/BGSP-NJ, and the institutional disciplinary investigation and hearing procedures.

Mailboxes and Email

Each student and faculty member have a mail slot in the administrative area. Students are asked to check their slots regularly for communications from the administration and other messages. Students may leave messages for faculty in the faculty mail slots. Many messages are sent via email and it is expected that all students have access to a computer and have a valid e-mail address until they are provided with a BGSP student email. Computers are available in the computer center. Students may also access our wireless internet connection using their laptops.

Student Emails

All students are provided with a BGSP student email upon admission. All students are required to ensure that the email account is set up and they are receiving emails to the BGSP student email account. Each student will be contacted by a member of our technology support team who will be available to assist students in setting up the email account and troubleshoot any problems.

Student Forms

Forms that students need for a variety of record keeping purposes are kept near the student mail slots. If any form is missing, it may be obtained at the administrative desk. Many of these forms are also available on the BGSP website, <https://bgsp.edu/>, under the Library & Administrative Materials tab.

At ICPS, forms that students need for a variety of record keeping may be requested from the administrative office.

Library

The Library at the Brookline main campus is located on the upper level of 1581 Beacon Street. The Library houses a large collection of books and periodicals available for borrowing or on reserve supplemented by database resources accessible remotely. All students are given a username and password to access library databases. All readings and syllabi for BGSP classes are available in the library and online with the exception of textbooks. A student copy machine offers the opportunity to photocopy additional readings and students are advised to set up a copy machine account. Normal Library hours are 9:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. weekdays and 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. on Saturdays except in July and August. As of September, 2021, the Library is open on a modified schedule from 9am – 5pm Monday through Friday, until further notice.

At the beginning of each semester, the Librarian offers a library orientation to help students become familiar with circulation, reserve, and photocopying procedures as well as the location of materials. Any questions regarding library resources should be addressed to the Librarian, Ms. Amy Cohen- (cohenrose@bgsp.edu). At NYGSP, questions should be addressed to Ms. Laura Covino.

The ICPS/ACAP library is located in the central space of the School facility. There are computer stations and a card catalogue to assist students with locating texts and on-line databases pertaining to psychoanalysis. The ICPS Librarian, Janet Lazar, is available by appointment at the New Jersey campus. All ICPS students are given a username and password to access BGSP's library databases, which include access to full-text journals and the Psychoanalytic Electronic Publishing database. The BGSP Librarian, Amy Cohen-Rose, is available by phone or email to consult with and advise students at ICPS.

At the beginning of each semester, the ICPS Student Association offers a library orientation to help students become familiar with circulation, reserve, and photocopying procedures as well as the location of materials.

Computer Lab

Each campus houses PC computers and printers for student use. Librarians are available by appointment for instruction in use of online resources. Students may also access our wireless internet connection throughout the building using their laptops, tablets, or other Wi-Fi device. Users accessing the internet via BGSP internet services on any device (school owned or otherwise) accept the terms of the BGSP Internet and Email Acceptable Use Policy. A copy of this policy is available in the school office.

Using the BGSP and ICPS/ACAP internet services to transmit any material (by email, uploading, posting, or otherwise) that infringes any copyright, trademark, patent, trade secret, or other proprietary rights of any third party is a violation of the BGSP Copyright Policy. A copy of this policy is available in the school office. Furthermore, students who participate in this kind of illegal peer-to-peer file sharing may be subject to civil and criminal liabilities. Such violations include, but are not limited to, the unauthorized copying of copyrighted material, the digitization and distribution of photographs from magazines, books, or other copyrighted sources, and the unauthorized transmittal of copyrighted software, movies, videos, and music files.

Student Lounge

Student Lounges are located on the upper and lower levels of 1581 Beacon Street. Students have access to these areas whenever the School is open. The downstairs lounge provides kitchenette facilities, including refrigerator, sink and microwave, for storing and heating meals.

Therapy Center

The BGSP Therapy Center offers psychoanalysis and psychoanalytic psychotherapy to the community at affordable fees. The Therapy Center is staffed by advanced candidates in the certificate and doctoral programs engaging in their Therapy Center internship while completing candidacy level studies. Advanced candidates see three or more patients under supervision and meet regularly with a therapy center Fellow. Therapy Center Fellows administer the Therapy Center, assigning patients, treatment rooms, overseeing files, and meeting with students to address administrative concerns. Fellows also function as academic advisors to students, and conduct outreach for the Therapy Center. Fellows are chosen from an applicant pool of advanced candidates, recent graduates and junior faculty based on demonstration of excellent clinical and administrative skills.

Candidates in good standing may see privately referred patients at the facility, provided they have done the necessary paperwork to establish them as Therapy Center patients and to document that they are receiving the required supervision.

A separate Therapy Center Manual outlines policies and procedures for the Therapy Center.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The BGSP Student Association, the ICPS Student Association, and the ACAP Student Association provide a venue for students to contribute energy, ideas, and expertise to the life of the School. Student Association officers are elected by the student body to coordinate the Association and are responsible for its activities joined by other student volunteers.

The student representatives receive student questions, requests and offers of participation and assist students in achieving the results they desire for satisfying extracurricular life. Student meetings are scheduled twice per semester to provide a forum for the exchange of information and resources that enrich life at the School. Changes in School policies and updates in academic procedures are communicated at meetings and in writing to all students. One student representative is also invited to serve as a student representative to the Board of Trustees.

The elected officers coordinate with student members of all committees at the School and address faculty, administration and student requests for communication and other matters. Students have served on the Anti-Racism, Recruitment, Art Gallery, and Institutional Advancement Committees. Students are welcome to apply to join any of these committees to share any form of expertise they may have.

The Student Association collects semester dues of $25 and provides dues-paying members discounts to school events, which are often directed by the Student Association. Proceeds from student dues and events are used to improve student life in many areas, including planning social events, promoting professional development, and providing seed money to other school projects. Students may request a school ID card, which provides access to area libraries and discounts to museums, films, airline tickets and other services with traditionally discounted student rates.

Bulletin boards in the computer room serve as a means of coordinating with other students who may need rides, housing, baby-sitting or other accommodations. Student representatives sponsor any project initiated by a student or faculty member that might improve student life at the School, and they are always available for feedback.

The school administrators are available for consultation with elected student representatives at any time.

All-Community meetings are held at least once per semester to discuss issues of concern to the entire community. The President presides over these meetings.

Tuition and Fees

Current tuition and fees are published in the registration materials produced each semester. For ICPS, they are also published in the Bulletin. Changes in the tuition or fees as well as deadlines for registration, policies pertaining to adding and dropping classes, leaves of absence and refunds are reproduced each semester in the registration materials.

Financial Aid

The Graduate School (BGSP/ICPS) offers federal Title IV financial aid for all students matriculated at least half-time, as well as assistantships and an extended payment plan. Inquiries may be directed to the Director of Enrollment Management and Financial Aid, Ms. Stephanie Woolbert.

Federal Student Loans

Students seeking federal student loans or deferment on existing federal loans apply with the Director of Financial Aid.

Assistantships

A limited number of assistantships are available and granted on the basis of need and ability to perform the tasks of a specific assistantship. Under special circumstances, an assistantship may be given to a student with a skill useful to the operation of the school. Generally, assistantships are not available to first year students.

Application for an assistantship should be directed to the Director of Financial Aid, with a copy to the specified hiring manager, in the form of a letter. The letter should be submitted prior to the semester for which the assistantship is requested and should include the desired level of assistance, the reason(s) for the request (basis of the need) and the skills the student may bring to a task. An assistantship loan contract is executed that states the conditions of the contract, including who will supervise the work. Unworked hours will be billed to the student's account. Eligibility is based on financial need and academic standing.

Extended Payment Plan

Under this plan, the full tuition and fees, including the $100 Extended Payment Plan fee, are equally divided and paid in five payments as specified in the registration materials. The student submits five post-dated checks representing the five calculated payments or arranges with the Controller to submit payments online on the designated due dates. The application for the extended payment plan is provided with the registration materials and is submitted to the Controller by the registration due date each semester.

Good Financial Standing

Students are required to make either a complete loan application or a tuition payment in order to maintain access to the Library materials and database. Students not applying for financial aid, or whose financial aid application is incomplete, are expected to pay in full or make payments in keeping with the Extended Payment Plan in order to remain in good financial standing. Students whose extended payment plan payments are not honored may lose their good financial standing.

Students who are not in good financial standing will lose access to the Library materials and database and will have a registration hold for the following semester until the situation is rectified. Please note, loss of access to the Library materials (including course syllabi and readings) does not constitute a valid reason for non-submission of assignments. All students with outstanding balances at the end of the semester will be assessed a 1% per month financial charge until the balance is cleared. The Boston Graduate School of Psychoanalysis may withhold diplomas, degrees, transcripts and other official notice of work done at the School from students who are not in good financial standing. A student may not withdraw in good standing or graduate until all obligations to BGSP are paid in full.

Refund Policy

A student who has completed registration and finds it necessary to withdraw writes a letter notifying the Dean of Graduate Studies at BGSP, and the Registrar and their advisor at ICPS. Students in the Psychoanalysis, Society, and Culture Program notify the Program Director and the Dean. A student may not withdraw in good standing or graduate until all obligations to BGSP are paid in full.

The School considers the date of withdrawal to be the date such written notification is received by the Dean or Director. Absence from class does not reduce financial obligation or guarantee that a final grade will not be recorded.

The refund policy schedule is different from the extended payment plan and federal student loan schedules. Therefore, receiving financial aid or making tuition payments according to extended payment plan deadlines does not ensure that a balance will not still be due if a student drops out. "All-school" fees, such as application and registration fees, are nonrefundable. The tuition refund policy schedule follows:

Withdrawal received prior to the first class meeting:	100% refund
Withdrawal received prior to the second class meeting:	75% refund
Withdrawal received prior to the third class meeting:	50% refund
Withdrawal received prior to the fourth class meeting:	20% refund

STUDENT RECORDS

The Graduate School maintains for each student educational records that are open to inspection by that student (in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act [FERPA], and with federal and state regulations). The school policy permits the student to have specified information released to other people, but it otherwise restricts disclosure to include school personnel who have a legitimate educational interest in the contents of the record, to officers of the Federal Department of education and to their state counterparts who supervise the enforcement, and to authorized educational research agencies who monitor institutional educational enterprise. Such recipients are bound not to disclose any personally identifiable information from the records to unauthorized third parties.

A record is kept of material requested or disclosed from the file other than that requested by the student or authorized school personnel. School personnel have access to those portions of a student's record that are necessary for them to perform their advisory, administrative, or instructional functions. Information for other individuals or organizations is not released without the express written permission of the student, except as allowed by FERPA. Although FERPA does provide that parents of dependent students may be permitted to inspect student files, BGSP/ICPS does not report academic information and grades to parents.

Generally, all educational records are available for inspection by students in a meeting with their advisor. Excepted are confidential recommendations written after the student has waived his/her right to see the recommendation, medical and psychological counseling records, parents' financial statements (when submitted in confidence), personal faculty and staff files (available only to the authors), and certain law enforcement records.

Students should make an appointment with their advisor in order to examine his/her record. A student may add to his/her file at any time, but any student who, upon reviewing his/her file, believes a portion of it to be inaccurate or inappropriate, may either enter a statement of correction or seek to have the file emended. Should no informal agreement be reached by the student and the Dean (BGSP) or the Program Director (ICPS) on the emendation, the student may submit a written request for a hearing in accordance with the procedures described in the section on Grievance Procedures.

Any student who believes that his/her right to privacy or access to personal records has been in some way infringed may seek to have the situation redressed through the Dean's office (BGSP) or the Program Director (ICPS) and through the Grievance process. Students also may seek redress through the Office of the U.S. Department of Education designated to review such cases. The Department has the authority to conduct a hearing where appropriate. Information on the Act and these procedures is available through the Dean's office, and from the Department of Education office that administers FERPA: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, D.C. 20202-8520.

Academic records for current students are maintained in the Registrar's office, while inactive files are archived. Please contact the Registrar or the Dean regarding information about student records.

Directory

Certain information, classified as Directory Information, is available for public consumption unless the student specifically directs each semester, in writing, that it be withheld. Public directory information as defined by the Act includes student's name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, date and place of birth, dates of attendance, degree and awards received, class schedule and the recent previous educational institution attended.

Please note: If the School on any occasion fails to enforce one of its policies, the failure to enforce the policy on that occasion does not constitute a waiver of the policy.

CODE OF CONDUCT

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

The following Code of Conduct is meant to guide the administration, faculty, staff and students of the BGSP in their professional and academic relationships with each other, as well as with external agencies and the general public, in order that the highest standards of professional and academic conduct may be upheld. What follows are not laws, but standards and principles that are intended to give shape and substance to the high ideals and aspirations that the Graduate School has always upheld, first, for the welfare of the individual patient, and second, for society as a whole. Failure to comply with the Code of Conduct undermines the educational environment and can result in disciplinary proceedings.

GENERAL STANDARDS

- 1-1. All persons comply with the normative standards, rules and regulations of the School, as outlined in the Bulletin, Faculty Handbook, Student Handbook, and other publications of the School, as well as all federal, state and local laws.
- 1-2. All persons respect the highest standards of academic integrity. The Graduate School considers it a violation of the requirements of intellectual responsibility to submit work that is not one's own or otherwise to subvert the conditions under which academic work is performed by oneself or by others. Violation may lead to failing a course, academic probation, or in repeated cases suspension or expulsion.
- 1-3. All persons respect the highest standards of academic freedom. All persons ensure and protect the rights of other members of the community to express their views. This entails a respect for differences. Expression of one's views and differences is expected to be handled in an emotionally constructive manner modeled on the therapeutic relationship. A violation of this standard may result in failing a course, being placed on probation, or in cases of repetitive violations, being suspended or expelled.
- 1-4. All persons respect the rights, dignity, and integrity of others, regardless of race, religion, national origin, ethnic identification, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, political affiliation or belief, or physical disability.
- 1-5. The Graduate School is committed to establishing and maintaining an environment free of all forms of harassment. All members of the school community are expected to strive to interact constructively with each other. For details on the School's sexual misconduct program and prevention policies, please refer to the School's Annual Security Report.
- 1-6. All members of the School community adhere to the School's policies on drugs and alcohol. For details on these policies, please refer to the Annual Security Report.

STANDARDS FOR FACULTY

- 2-1. Faculty members seek to promote excellence and integrity in the science, practice and teaching of psychoanalysis. When faculty members teach, practice, and conduct research where generally recognized standards of competence are not yet established, they take reasonable steps to ensure the protection of students, patients, or research participants. Proposed research projects must be reviewed by the Institutional Review Board (Research Committee) before data is collected. Faculty members maintain a reasonable awareness of current information and developments in their area of expertise, and continually undertake to maintain and improve their professional competence. Faculty members are careful to give due credit to all those sources which directly or indirectly influence their work.

- 2-2. When expressing a professional opinion, Faculty members purport to speak on behalf of the School only with the authorization of the Board of Trustees or the President. For details on representing the School through social media, please refer to the School's Social Media Policy.
- 2-3. Faculty members understand the potential for exploitation in relationships with students and patients, and refrain from exploitative behavior.
- 2-4. Faculty members have a primary responsibility to maintain the confidentiality of information revealed to them by an analysand. Information regarding the number of hours and frequency of analysis and identity of the training analyst is part of the student's academic record.
- 2-5. For the provision of the integrity of a student's training analysis, and to enable the faculty to avoid any conflict of interest, faculty do not supervise any students who are their analysands. Furthermore, faculty do not serve on the research committees of students who are their analysands, do not vote on the readiness for graduation of such students, and do not vote on any administrative or disciplinary matter relating to such students. Analysands may take courses with their analysts by agreement. It is the analyst's responsibility to protect the transference.
- 2-6. When faculty serve in an administrative capacity, they adhere to the same standards as the administration of the School.

STANDARDS FOR STUDENTS

- 3-1. Students who are expressing a professional opinion purport to speak for the School only with authorization of the President or the Board.
- 3-2. Students conducting research submit a description of their proposed study to the Institutional Review Board (Research Committee) to determine whether their research requires the informed consent of the subject. If informed consent is deemed necessary, the student researcher submits informed consent procedures to the IRB (Dr. Stephen Soldz, Chair) for approval entailing that the researcher and the subject agree on the nature and purposes of the research and the responsibilities of each party. IRB review forms are available from Dr. Soldz.

- 3-3. All students conducting research or writing papers report the results or process in such a way that the patients or subjects are not identifiable.
- 3-4. Interns who are seeing patients in the fieldwork externship, the counseling practicum or internship, or the Therapy Center do not misrepresent their role in the School to patients or potential referral sources.
- 3-5. Students who are seeing patients in the fieldwork externship, the counseling practicum or internship, or Therapy Center or who serve as mentors to other students adhere to the same standards as faculty regarding patients and students.
- 3-6. Students in the doctoral and certificate programs engage in the practice of psychoanalysis only after being accepted to the Therapy Center and obtaining supervision.
- 3-7. Students may represent themselves as psychoanalysts only after graduation from the Doctor of Psychoanalysis in Clinical Psychoanalysis degree program or the Certificate in Psychoanalysis program.

STANDARDS FOR ADMINISTRATION

- 4-1. The administration represents the School accurately to its constituencies, to external agencies, and to the general public.
- 4-2. The administration does not discriminate in its admissions, promotion, or other policies on the basis of age, race, gender, gender identity, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sexual orientation, disability or socioeconomic status.
- 4-3. The administration makes adequate provision for the maintenance of confidentiality of student records in their storage and disposal. The School does not release student or patient records of any kind without the written permission of the student or patient in compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

Grievance procedures guide BGSP/ICPS community members seeking to resolve a grievance against other members of the BGSP/ICPS community.

RESOLUTION OF GRIEVANCES WITH MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY OR ADMINISTRATION

Grievances are normally to be resolved in informal discussion between the immediate parties to a dispute. If this discussion fails to produce a satisfactory resolution, an aggrieved person might seek the advice and assistance of their advisor, another member of the faculty, the Dean of Graduate Studies (BGSP)/the Program Director (ICPS), or finally, the President. At NYGSP, students may seek the assistance of the Program Director as well. At NYGSP the Program Director assumes the responsibilities outlined for the Dean in the following procedures. At BGSP-NJ/ICPS, the Program Director assumes the responsibilities for the Dean in the following procedures.

If, following such consultation and assistance, the matter remains unresolved, the aggrieved person may, in a written petition describing fully the nature and grounds of the grievance, request the Dean of Graduate Studies to review the disputed matter. The Dean will review the dispute in a manner deemed appropriate to the case at hand and report any recommendations to the parties.

In extraordinary cases, an aggrieved person may, following a review by the Dean of Graduate Studies, request a further review by the Grievance Committee, which will include student representation. Full cooperation with the committee is expected of all members of the academic community. Upon completing its review, the committee shall report its recommendations to the immediate parties and the Dean of Graduate Studies.

The Dean of Graduate Studies or the President will then make a final disposition. Any interested party will recuse him/herself from the Grievance Committee and the final disposition.

All recommendations, including those of the Grievance Committee, are advisory only. They do not limit the power or responsibility of the Dean of Graduate Studies, or the President to enforce School rules or regulations.

If a person believes the grievance has not been satisfactorily resolved through this process, they may file a complaint with the state:

RESOLUTION OF STUDENT GRIEVANCES AGAINST OTHER STUDENTS

Investigation of Complaints

Anyone at the Graduate School may bring a complaint against a student for allegedly violating the Code of Conduct. All complaints should be made to the Dean of Graduate Studies, who administers the Code of Conduct. The Dean is then responsible for investigating the complaint and for deciding, within a reasonable period of time, its appropriate disposition. At BGSP-NJ/ICPS, the Program Director assumes the responsibilities for the Dean in the following procedures.

The Dean may decide:

1. There is no basis for the complaint, and it should be dismissed.
2. There is no substantial dispute on the facts of the case, but the act or acts of the student do not constitute an offense under the Code of Conduct
3. There is no substantial dispute on the facts of the case, and it is agreed that the facts of the case warrant a finding that the accused student has committed an infraction of the Code of Conduct. The Dean will decide the penalty, make record of it, and see to its enforcement.
4. There is substantial dispute between the two parties on the facts of the case, and the Dean will request formation of an ad hoc Committee on Discipline to review the facts. In Boston, this committee will be composed of two members of the faculty appointed by the Chairman of the Grievance Committee in consultation with the Dean of Graduate Studies and the President and two members of the Student Association. Anyone with a conflict of interest will excuse themselves from the committee. The committee's recommendation is given to the Dean for appropriate disposition.

Cases that must go before the committee should do so in a timely fashion.

PREPARING FOR AND HOLDING THE HEARING

The Dean must inform both parties of their rights when brought before the committee or when bringing a complaint. These are:

1. To receive a written statement of the complaint, a copy of the procedures of the Committee on Discipline and notice of the time and location of the hearing. This information should normally be received at least a week in advance of any hearing so that the student may prepare adequately for the hearing. The student complained against may petition the Chair of the Committee for more time to prepare his/her case.
2. To have a hearing before the Committee at the earliest possible date consonant with the right to advance notice.
3. To be present at the hearing.
4. To call witnesses and present evidence; to hear and to question witnesses; and to review and to question all written testimony submitted. The Committee cannot consider statements against a student unless the student has been advised of their content and the names of those who made them and given the opportunity to rebut.
5. To have all evidence upon which a decision may be based introduced at the formal hearing and the decision based solely on such evidence.
6. To select an advisor from the Graduate School and to have that advisor present during the hearing. The advisor to the student complained against may assist him/her in preparing the case and provide support during the hearing. The advisors are present not to act as legal counsel, but to assist and support the students and to give advice on procedural matters.

7. To challenge any member of the Committee on Discipline with conflict of interest in the case. Prior acquaintance does not, in itself, constitute conflict of interest. The Dean as Chair of the Committee will hear the challenge in the absence of the other members of the Committee and will decide it. If the Chair is challenged, then the Appeal Board must make the determination and, if necessary, appoint a temporary chair for the hearing.
8. To submit an appeal to the Appeal Board at the conclusion of the hearing before the Committee on Discipline.

The Dean will chair all hearings and, if necessary, make any additional rules of procedure beyond those specified here. The Chair will maintain good order, recognize who is to speak, and preside over the hearing and the deliberations of the Committee following the hearing. She will not, however, actively participate in the disposition of the case until the Committee has decided whether the accused student has committed a violation. The Chair will then communicate to the Committee the contents, if any, of the student's disciplinary record. She will also clarify for the Committee, on request, existing precedent about the range of penalties imposed for the particular violation. The Chair will be responsible for keeping a summary record of the proceeding. Hearings may be taped at the discretion of the Chair, or in response to a request from members of the Committee or to a request of either the complainant or the accused student. If the student chooses to request a hearing before the Appeal Board, the Chair of the Committee on Discipline will share the record of its deliberations with the Appeal Board.

All hearings of the Committee will be confidential except when both the aggrieved party and the student complained against agree to open the hearing and the Chair concurs. An open hearing may be closed at any time, if the Chair determines that the presence of spectators interferes with the conduct of the hearing or might undermine the integrity of the process.

The burden of proof rests on the complainant or, if the Dean brings the case, on her. The Committee may consider any testimony or evidence it has reason to believe is trustworthy and pertinent and has probative value, except that any statement made by a student in confidence to an official of the school, with the mutual understanding it was made in confidence, shall be privileged if the student wishes it to be. The Committee has the right to call witnesses and to oblige any member of the school to appear.

A majority vote will decide each case a quorum being present; a quorum will be two faculty members and one student representative. A copy of the Committee's finding will be sent to the student complained against and to the complainant.

A copy of the finding will also be kept in a confidential file on the Code of Conduct in the Dean's office. This file will be accessible exclusively to the Dean and, through her, to the members of the Committee on Discipline at the point if and when the Committee has determined a student committed a violation. If the hearing is taped, the recording will be deposited in the same confidential file in which the other records of the case are kept.

Unless the student accused of an offense requests otherwise, the Dean or Director(s) will destroy all these records upon the student's graduation. If the complaint is dismissed, the records of the student complained against will be cleared of any reference to the complaint. A permanent record of all cases with names of the parties removed will be maintained by the Dean and accessible by future Chairs for the purpose of revising the Code.

PENALTIES

The Dean or the Committee on Discipline, or the Program Director as Chair, hears all cases involving alleged violations of the Code of Conduct, and only they are empowered to impose penalties upon those found to have violated provisions of the Code. The only exceptions shall be: (a) in cases of academic dishonesty in which the instructor is responsible for imposing a course penalty, and (b) in cases in which the Dean/Program Director is convinced that a student might pose a physical danger to any member of the school community. In the latter case, the Dean/Program Director may either have a student removed from, or prevent him/her access to, a building. The President shall appoint a substitute Chair for the Committee on Discipline and the Dean/Program Director must bring the case against the student before the Committee within one week of denial of access to, or removal from, any of the school premises.

A student found to have violated the Code of Conduct is subject to one or more of the following penalties, depending on the nature of the violation and of his/her prior disciplinary record:

1. Warning: A written admonition that will be considered in determining penalties if future violations occur.

2. Fines: These may be assigned for minor infractions of the Code when appropriate. They may also be used in cases of damage to school or personal property, but in cases of serious and/or repeated acts of destruction or vandalism, the imposition of fines must be combined with other disciplinary penalties.

3. Limitation of Participation: A student may be penalized by being barred from participating in school activities.

4. Community Service and Other Alternatives: The Dean or the Committee on Discipline, or the Program Director, can impose particular forms of community service and a number of hours to be worked. The Dean/Program Director will be responsible for supervising the implementation of the community service. The Dean may also require attendance, when appropriate, at drug or alcohol workshops or other similar alternatives suitable to the nature of the infraction.

5. Disciplinary Probation: A strong warning in writing which specifies that further infractions of the Code during a student's time at the BGSP/ICPS will, in most instances, lead to suspension, dismissal or, in very serious cases, expulsion from the school. A student on disciplinary probation may be barred from some or all extracurricular activities for a defined period.

6. Course Penalties: Acts of cheating or plagiarism should result in a student's receiving a failing grade. The instructor, after consultation with the Dean or Program Director(s), has the discretion to decide whether the grade should be imposed for the particular assignment or for the whole course. All such acts will be part of the student's general file. The Dean or the Committee on Discipline, or the Program Director, may impose other penalties as well, from disciplinary probation to expulsion, depending on the seriousness of the offense and the student's previous record.

7. Suspension: The rights and privileges of being a student at BGSP/ICPS may be suspended for a specific period of time, the minimum of which will be to the end of the current semester. The student must not return until the end of the period of suspension. Readmission is not necessary.

8. Withholding of Degree: In disciplinary cases involving advanced candidates preparing to graduate at the conclusion of the semester during which the violation occurred, the Graduate School may withhold the degree. The student may be permitted to finish the requirement of graduation, but the awarding of the degree will be delayed.

9. Dismissal: A student may be required to leave school for at least one semester and petition for readmission. The student may be required to fulfill particular obligations while away from the School and to provide evidence of having done so, along with evidence of his/her readiness to return to study.

- 10. Expulsion: This means the permanent termination of student and degree-candidate status at the BGSP/ICPS. It may be imposed only in the most serious cases.

Normally, suspension, dismissal and expulsion appear on a student's transcript. Other penalties do not. The only case in which the violation must be recorded is when a student has committed an act of violence against another person. Otherwise, no information about the violation may be released without the student's permission.

The Dean/Program Director is authorized to judge violations and to assign a penalty in all cases in which guilt or responsibility is not disputed. Cases of intellectual dishonesty may be settled by an instructor in consultation with the student and the Dean or Program Director; after the first offense, the case will go before the Committee on Discipline.

Among those actions which normally will result in probation or more serious penalties are interference with others exercise of their academic freedom, intimidation or physical threat or harm, acts of vandalism or destruction of property, academic dishonesty, sexual or other harassment, exploitation of the student-patient relationship and theft.

APPEAL

The membership of the Appeal Board will consist of two faculty members and one student representative. All three members vote, and a majority will decide all questions.

Decisions of the Committee on Discipline can be appealed by the accused or the aggrieved only in cases of demonstrated failure or unfairness in procedure, or when substantial new evidence can be presented. The student may also appeal the severity of the penalty. Requests for consideration of an appeal must be made in writing by the original complainant or the student complained against within five days of their receipt of the finding of the Committee on Discipline, if the appeal is based on procedural error or severity of penalty, or in timely manner, if the appeal is based on new evidence.

The Appeal Board determines what will be accepted on the basis of these requests and the summary of record of the hearing and any other relevant materials from the hearing.

The Board may resolve the appeal itself on the basis of this information, hold new hearings or refer the case back to the Committee on Discipline with instructions.

There will be no appeal beyond the Appeal Board except to the President, and then only when there is demonstrated failure or unfairness of procedure, or when substantial new evidence can be presented, or for clemency.

COMPLAINT PROCEDURES FOR DISTANCE LEARNING STUDENTS

This BGSP Student Handbook includes an outline (starting on page 33) of the internal procedures for handling grievances against faculty, the administration, and/or fellow students. Students must first attempt to resolve their complaint at the institutional level using these grievance procedures offered by BGSP.

Massachusetts resident distance learning students, who are unable to resolve a complaint at the institutional level, may choose to file a complaint at the state level, using Massachusetts Department of Higher Education's non-SARA consumer complaint procedure and online form: <https://www.mass.edu/forstufam/complaints/complaintform.asp> More information on filing a grievance with the state can be found on page 34 of this student handbook.

Out-of-state distance learning students from SARA member states (other than Massachusetts), who are unable to resolve a complaint at the institutional level, may follow the SARA Student Complaint Procedures as listed below.

Out-of-state distance learning students residing in non-SARA member states (such as California and Guam) are ineligible to use the SARA Student Complaint Procedures as outlined below.

3. The Department shall send a copy of the complaint to the institution that is the subject of the complaint;
4. Within 30 days of the date that the Department sends a copy of the complaint to the institution, the institution must provide a written response to the student and the Department.

More information about the BHE's complaint process can be found here.

Within 30 days of the date the Department received the institution's response, or if the Department receives no response, the Commissioner or his or her designee shall issue a notice to the institution containing the Commissioner's findings regarding the complaint; any corrective actions that the institution shall take; and that, should the institution fail to take those corrective actions, the complaint shall be referred to the Office of the Attorney General for review and, if the Office of the Attorney General deems it appropriate, enforcement action.
